

Practical ideas on Sustainability

Everybody is talking about sustainability nowadays. We have a specialist and will present real-life examples on what companies can do. In our series "Members learn from Members", we are happy to invite you to a very special seminar. Royal Haskoning is flying in its sustainability expert Bart Brink from the Netherlands to present the Cradle-to-Cradle approach to sustainability to us. Khun Jakkirin Taepaisitpong will present some of the projects of one of Thailand's most successful companies, Betagro. And we have lots of other examples of what Dutch and Belgian companies in Thailand are doing.

We hope you will be inspired and specifically encourage you to bring your Thai management team to listen, discuss and learn.

Please register via this link and get inspired!

Best regards, Bert

Speakers

Bart Brink

Bart Brink is corporate coordinator Cradle-to-Cradle Sustainability at Royal Haskoning and has worked with many multinational companies, governments and the EU. He will give an introduction to the concept and an overview of several success stories of buildings, products and processes that have been inspired by the Cradle-to-Cradle concept to Sustainability.

Jakkirin Taepaisitpong

Jakkirin Taepaisitpong is Senior Vice-President of Betagro. Betagro has implemented several Cradle-to-Cradle-inspired projects. Khun Jakkirin's presentation will illustrate what a company in Thailand can do to improve its sustainability.
